

INSURANCE.
BEFORE STARTING
YOUR FALL WORK TAKE A
WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION POLICY WITH
J. L. LATHROP & SONS
28 Shetucket Street, Norwich, Conn.

3500 per cent return for every dollar invested in Fire Insurance. It is impossible to invest the small amount of money that fire insurance costs to as good advantage in any other way. A few dollars a year gives you protection.
Look after your insurance and if you are not insured, let us attend to the matter for you immediately. Above all things—Do Not Delay.

SAUCS & JONES
Insurance and Real Estate Agents Richards Building, 91 Main St.

You are about to start on your vacation
For your sake and your family take out an Accident Policy in the Travelers before you go.
B. P. LEARNED & CO.

JOHN A. MORAN
Investment Broker
STATE AND INSURANCE
A SPECIALTY
Office Over Capital Lunch
Phone 370—Residence 1179-3

ORNEYS AT LAW
EDWIN W. HIGGINS,
Attorney-at-Law,
mar100 Shannon Building.

Brown & Perkins, Attorneys-at-Law Over Union Nat. Bank, Shetucket St.
Entrance midway between National Bank. Telephone 35-3.

The Dime Savings Bank OF NORWICH
DIVIDEND
The regular semi-annual dividend has been declared at the rate of 4 per cent a year and will be payable on and after Nov. 16.
FRANK L. WOODARD, Treasurer.

SPORTING NOTES.
Chengweh, quarterback; Tate, tackle and line, guard, have been declared eligible by the Lehigh faculty as a result of a petition of 900 students.
All three are stars, especially Chengweh. Lehigh has missed this crack quarterback all season. Greenbach, former Wiltenton player, is recovering from a broken arm, and will be able to play in the Lafayette game.

Connie Mack promises to shape up his club, and he hints at a change that will cause more talk than the one that concerns his pitchers. He refuses to mention names, but admits that the team to go will be an infielder. This adds strength to the report that Eddie Collins will be sold to the Yankees.

Winter Trips and Cruises
HAVANA
Interesting and restful, because of the fascinating charms of tropical life and climate. Excellent hotels.
Sailings from New York each Thursday and Saturday at noon. Through route to Isle of Pines, Santiago, etc.

NASSAU
In the Bahamas, offers many attractions for winter pleasure. Warm climate, excellent hotels, charming social life, good fishing, boating, tennis, polo, motor cars, etc.

NEW YORK & CUBA MAIL S.S. CO.
(Ward Line)
General Offices, Pier 14, E.R., New York On any Railroad Ticket Office or authorized tourist agency.

Dr. J. M. KING
DENTIST
May Building
Jan1TuWTF

Green String Beans
Native Spinach
Cauliflower

People's Market
6 Franklin Street
JUSTIN HOLDEN, Proprietor

FAMOUS FURS
Ladies Fur Coats and Sets.
Men's Coats of all styles.
Remodeling and repairing also done cheaply. Superior styles.
H. BRUCKNER, 81 Franklin St.

FRANK'S INN
For Infants and Children
In Use For Over 30 Years
Always bears
the Signature of Frank's

Follow the crowd to the only place in New London where genuine chop is made by an Oriental chef.

PRINCECE GAME

Yale's Objective Game is Its Contest With Harvard—Blue
Will Probably Reserve Men and Plays for Crimson Battle—All-America Tackles Will Oppose Each Other.

Don't judge too much the comparative abilities of Yale and Harvard by their showing against Princeton. Princeton has been a three-team contest, when the desire to win in every game has been equal in each team, and certainly such is not the case with the Harvard-Yale-Princeton combination.

Only one of Princeton's games with Harvard and Yale is considered the Tigers' objective. Only one of Yale's two games can be considered its objective, and only one of Harvard's games can be considered the goal for which it most earnestly strives.

Yale's objective game is its contest with Harvard, and the Blue team, if it were assured of a win over the Crimson, would give no thought to Princeton. Princeton's objective game is that with Yale and the loss of Saturday's game would quickly be forgotten.
Princeton will win this week. Harvard's one objective is Yale also, and had Coach Houghton's men lost to Princeton last Saturday night, the Harvard team would rest almost as contented should the Crimson win from the Blue.

As the result of this known and recognized feeling in the three institutions Yale gets it both ways, facing Princeton in what is Princeton's objective game
and the next facing Harvard in what is Harvard's objective game. It gets it again in both ways, as the two games are the final one for its opponents, and both of the latter will take chances that Yale cannot afford to do.

At Princeton Yale will find the Tiger
back playing far better and more daring football than the team which he has faced at Cambridge, while its opponent, thinking chiefly of its contest for the succeeding week will be doing its best to conserve its men and its plays. Consequently if Yale wins by but a small score, or even loses by a few points, such results
as these will not indicate that Yale is a poorer team.

Where Desires Lay
The foregoing is not intended to indicate that Yale does not desire to win the Princeton game, or that it will sacrifice the game that it may retain an advantage. It means simply that Yale has a keener desire to win from Harvard than it has for a win over Princeton, and that this desire can not help being manifested to a degree in football play this week.

The Princeton Yale game will find the New Haven institution with its best team on the field. Aleck Wilson, Harvard's star, will be a factor in the star wearers of the Blue, who have been given a very easy time of it this season will be in the lineup. A

Freddie Welsh of Wales, lightweight champion of the world, was held draw by Charlie White in a fiercely fought ten round contest at Milwaukee Monday night. Welsh, who had a referee's decision could not be given, but it was the opinion of the newspaper experts that White evened up honors by his last fight with Welsh against Welsh's cleverness.

White opened a wound over the corner and gave him a good lacing.
The fifth round took on Welsh, who led, whaling White all around the ring and taking little punishment in return. The Chicago boy showed better in the sixth, but Welsh jarred White with lefts and took the round
by a shade.

White came back strong in the seventh and eighth, but Welsh, who shook up Welsh with a right hander.
White missed with two uppercuts and took two rights in the ribs, but was not discouraged, and hooked Welsh in the head. The round was about even.

Welsh deserved the eighth by a shade though both boys missed many times. Welsh landed three lefts to the head as the round ended. Welsh fought Welsh in the ninth. They traded punches at the bell and after a hard rally in the center of the ring
the Chicago boy made the champion back away. White drove Welsh into a corner and laced him with stinging rights and lefts to the body. White landed two rights on Welsh's jaw as
the round ended.

White rushed the fight in the tenth,
again driving Welsh into a corner,
where he landed five times without a return. White opened up a cut over Welsh's eye and peppered him with rights and lefts to the head. Welsh swung wildly with blood trickling into his eye.

He went into a clinch and as they broke White put two lefts to Welsh's head and a right to the jaw. The last two rounds were White's all the way.
White left the ring without a mark,
while Welsh was bleeding profusely.

Penn. Trainer Resigns
Philadelphia, Nov. 10.—"Pat" Dwyer, trainer of the University of Pennsyvania football team, who has been suffering from malaria since last season,
of the team from Michigan, today tendered his resignation.

"By" Dickson, an assistant coach of the squad, it is announced, will act in Dwyer's place until a new trainer can be secured.

Coach Overbush is trainhardt.
N. F. A. Tuning Up
Coach Overbush is tuning up the N. F. A. squad for the Bulkeley game at New London Saturday. The squad are daily practicing forward passes and have a few new trick plays which they will palm off on Saturday. The team was defeated by the West End team Tuesday by the score of 18 to 6.

CASSORA
For Infants and Children
In Use For Over 30 Years
Always bears
the Signature of Cassora

Follow the crowd to the only place
in New London where genuine chop
is made by an Oriental chef.

PRINCECE GAME

Yale's Objective Game is Its Contest With Harvard—Blue
Will Probably Reserve Men and Plays for Crimson Battle—All-America Tackles Will Oppose Each Other.

Don't judge too much the comparative abilities of Yale and Harvard by
their showing against Princeton. Princeton has been a three-team
contest, when the desire to win in
every game has been equal in each
team, and certainly such is not the
case with the Harvard-Yale-Princeton
combination.

Only one of Princeton's games with Harvard and Yale is considered the Tigers' objective. Only one of Yale's
two games can be considered its objective, and only one of Harvard's
games can be considered the goal for
which it most earnestly strives.

Yale's objective game is its contest
with Harvard, and the Blue team, if it
were assured of a win over the Crim-
son, would give no thought to Princeton. Princeton's objective game is
that with Yale and the loss of Satur-
day's game would quickly be forgotten.
Princeton will win this week. Har-
vard's one objective is Yale also, and
had Coach Houghton's men lost to Princeton last Saturday night, the Harvard team would rest almost as con-
tented should the Crimson win from the Blue.

As the result of this known and recognized feeling in the three institutions
Yale gets it both ways, facing Princeton
in what is Princeton's objective game
and the next facing Harvard in what is
Harvard's objective game. It gets it again in both
ways, as the two games are the
final one for its opponents, and
both of the latter will take chances
that Yale cannot afford to do.

At Princeton Yale will find the Tiger
back playing far better and more daring
football than the team which he has
faced at Cambridge, while its opponent, thinking
chiefly of its contest for the succeeding
week will be doing its best to conserve
its men and its plays. Consequently
if Yale wins by but a small score, or
even loses by a few points, such results
as these will not indicate that Yale is a poorer team.

Where Desires Lay
The foregoing is not intended to indicate that Yale does not desire to
win the Princeton game, or that it will
sacrifice the game that it may retain
an advantage. It means simply that Yale has a keener desire to win from Harvard than it has for a win over
Princeton, and that this desire can
not help being manifested to a degree in football play this week.

The Princeton Yale game will find
the New Haven institution with its
best team on the field. Aleck Wilson, Harvard's star, will be a factor in
the star wearers of the Blue, who
have been given a very easy time of it
this season will be in the lineup. A

Freddie Welsh of Wales, lightweight
champion of the world, was held
draw by Charlie White in a fiercely
fought ten round contest at Milwaukee
Monday night. Welsh, who had a re-
feree's decision could not be given, but
it was the opinion of the newspaper
experts that White evened up honors
by his last fight with Welsh against Welsh's cleverness.

White opened a wound over the
corner and gave him a good lacing.
The fifth round took on Welsh, who
led, whaling White all around the
ring and taking little punishment in
return. The Chicago boy showed better in the sixth, but Welsh jarred
White with lefts and took the round
by a shade.

White came back strong in the seventh and eighth, but Welsh, who
shook up Welsh with a right hander.
White missed with two uppercuts and
took two rights in the ribs, but was
not discouraged, and hooked Welsh
in the head. The round was about even.

Welsh deserved the eighth by a
shade though both boys missed many
times. Welsh landed three lefts to the head as the round ended. Welsh
fought Welsh in the ninth. They
traded punches at the bell and after a
hard rally in the center of the ring
the Chicago boy made the champion
back away. White drove Welsh into a corner and laced him with stinging
rights and lefts to the body. White
landed two rights on Welsh's jaw as
the round ended.

White rushed the fight in the tenth,
again driving Welsh into a corner,
where he landed five times without a
return. White opened up a cut over Welsh's eye and peppered him with
rights and lefts to the head. Welsh
swung wildly with blood trickling into
his eye.

He went into a clinch and as they
broke White put two lefts to Welsh's
head and a right to the jaw. The last two rounds were White's all the way.
White left the ring without a mark,
while Welsh was bleeding profusely.

Penn. Trainer Resigns
Philadelphia, Nov. 10.—"Pat" Dwyer,
trainer of the University of Pennsy-
vania football team, who has been suffering from malaria since last season,
of the team from Michigan, today tendered his resignation.

"By" Dickson, an assistant coach of
the squad, it is announced, will act in
Dwyer's place until a new trainer can
be secured.

Coach Overbush is trainhardt.
N. F. A. Tuning Up
Coach Overbush is tuning up the N. F. A. squad for the Bulkeley game at New London Saturday. The squad are
daily practicing forward passes and
have a few new trick plays which
they will palm off on Saturday. The
team was defeated by the West End
team Tuesday by the score of 18 to 6.

CASSORA
For Infants and Children
In Use For Over 30 Years
Always bears
the Signature of Cassora

Follow the crowd to the only place
in New London where genuine chop
is made by an Oriental chef.

PRINCECE GAME

Yale's Objective Game is Its Contest With Harvard—Blue
Will Probably Reserve Men and Plays for Crimson Battle—All-America Tackles Will Oppose Each Other.

Don't judge too much the comparative abilities of Yale and Harvard by
their showing against Princeton. Princeton has been a three-team
contest, when the desire to win in
every game has been equal in each
team, and certainly such is not the
case with the Harvard-Yale-Princeton
combination.

Only one of Princeton's games with Harvard and Yale is considered the Tigers' objective. Only one of Yale's
two games can be considered its objective, and only one of Harvard's
games can be considered the goal for
which it most earnestly strives.

Yale's objective game is its contest
with Harvard, and the Blue team, if it
were assured of a win over the Crim-
son, would give no thought to Princeton. Princeton's objective game is
that with Yale and the loss of Satur-
day's game would quickly be forgotten.
Princeton will win this week. Har-
vard's one objective is Yale also, and
had Coach Houghton's men lost to Princeton last Saturday night, the Harvard team would rest almost as con-
tented should the Crimson win from the Blue.

As the result of this known and recognized feeling in the three institutions
Yale gets it both ways, facing Princeton
in what is Princeton's objective game
and the next facing Harvard in what is
Harvard's objective game. It gets it again in both
ways, as the two games are the
final one for its opponents, and
both of the latter will take chances
that Yale cannot afford to do.

At Princeton Yale will find the Tiger
back playing far better and more daring
football than the team which he has
faced at Cambridge, while its opponent, thinking
chiefly of its contest for the succeeding
week will be doing its best to conserve
its men and its plays. Consequently
if Yale wins by but a small score, or
even loses by a few points, such results
as these will not indicate that Yale is a poorer team.

Where Desires Lay
The foregoing is not intended to in-
dicate that Yale does not desire to
win the Princeton game, or that it will
sacrifice the game that it may retain
an advantage. It means simply that Yale has a keener desire to win from Harvard than it has for a win over
Princeton, and that this desire can
not help being manifested to a degree in football play this week.

The Princeton Yale game will find
the New Haven institution with its
best team on the field. Aleck Wilson, Harvard's star, will be a factor in
the star wearers of the Blue, who
have been given a very easy time of it
this season will be in the lineup. A

Freddie Welsh of Wales, lightweight
champion of the world, was held
draw by Charlie White in a fiercely
fought ten round contest at Milwaukee
Monday night. Welsh, who had a re-
feree's decision could not be given, but
it was the opinion of the newspaper
experts that White evened up honors
by his last fight with Welsh against Welsh's cleverness.

White opened a wound over the
corner and gave him a good lacing.
The fifth round took on Welsh, who
led, whaling White all around the
ring and taking little punishment in
return. The Chicago boy showed better in the sixth, but Welsh jarred
White with lefts and took the round
by a shade.

White came back strong in the seventh and eighth, but Welsh, who
shook up Welsh with a right hander.
White missed with two uppercuts and
took two rights in the ribs, but was
not discouraged, and hooked Welsh
in the head. The round was about even.

Welsh deserved the eighth by a
shade though both boys missed many
times. Welsh landed three lefts to the head as the round ended. Welsh
fought Welsh in the ninth. They
traded punches at the bell and after a
hard rally in the center of the ring
the Chicago boy made the champion
back away. White drove Welsh into a corner and laced him with stinging
rights and lefts to the body. White
landed two rights on Welsh's jaw as
the round ended.

White rushed the fight in the tenth,
again driving Welsh into a corner,
where he landed five times without a
return. White opened up a cut over Welsh's eye and peppered him with
rights and lefts to the head. Welsh
swung wildly with blood trickling into
his eye.

He went into a clinch and as they
broke White put two lefts to Welsh's
head and a right to the jaw. The last two rounds were White's all the way.
White left the ring without a mark,
while Welsh was bleeding profusely.

Penn. Trainer Resigns
Philadelphia, Nov. 10.—"Pat" Dwyer,
trainer of the University of Pennsy-
vania football team, who has been suffering from malaria since last season,
of the team from Michigan, today tendered his resignation.

"By" Dickson, an assistant coach of
the squad, it is announced, will act in Dwyer's place until a new trainer can
be secured.

Coach Overbush is trainhardt.
N. F. A. Tuning Up
Coach Overbush is tuning up the N. F. A. squad for the Bulkeley game at New London Saturday. The squad are
daily practicing forward passes and
have a few new trick plays which
they will palm off on Saturday. The
team was defeated by the West End
team Tuesday by the score of 18 to 6.

CASSORA
For Infants and Children
In Use For Over 30 Years
Always bears
the Signature of Cassora

Follow the crowd to the only place
in New London where genuine chop
is made by an Oriental chef.

PRINCECE GAME

Yale's Objective Game is Its Contest With Harvard—Blue
Will Probably Reserve Men and Plays for Crimson Battle—All-America Tackles Will Oppose Each Other.

Don't judge too much the comparative abilities of Yale and Harvard by
their showing against Princeton. Princeton has been a three-team
contest, when the desire to win in
every game has been equal in each
team, and certainly such is not the
case with the Harvard-Yale-Princeton
combination.

Only one of Princeton's games with Harvard and Yale is considered the Tigers' objective. Only one of Yale's
two games can be considered its objective, and only one of Harvard's
games can be considered the goal for
which it most earnestly strives.

Yale's objective game is its contest
with Harvard, and the Blue team, if it
were assured of a win over the Crim-
son, would give no thought to Princeton. Princeton's objective game is
that with Yale and the loss of Satur-
day's game would quickly be forgotten.
Princeton will win this week. Har-
vard's one objective is Yale also, and
had Coach Houghton's men lost to Princeton last Saturday night, the Harvard team would rest almost as con-
tented should the Crimson win from the Blue.

As the result of this known and recognized feeling in the three institutions
Yale gets it both ways, facing Princeton
in what is Princeton's objective game
and the next facing Harvard in what is
Harvard's objective game. It gets it again in both
ways, as the two games are the
final one for its opponents, and
both of the latter will take chances
that Yale cannot afford to do.

At Princeton Yale will find the Tiger
back playing far better and more daring
football than the team which he has
faced at Cambridge, while its opponent, thinking
chiefly of its contest for the succeeding
week will be doing its best to conserve
its men and its plays. Consequently
if Yale wins by but a small score, or
even loses by a few points, such results
as these will not indicate that Yale is a poorer team.

Where Desires Lay
The foregoing is not intended to in-
dicate that Yale does not desire to
win the Princeton game, or that it will
sacrifice the game that it may retain
an advantage. It means simply that Yale has a keener desire to win from Harvard than it has for a win over
Princeton, and that this desire can
not help being manifested to a degree in football play this week.

The Princeton Yale game will find
the New Haven institution with its
best team on the field. Aleck Wilson, Harvard's star, will be a factor in
the star wearers of the Blue, who
have been given a very easy time of it
this season will be in the lineup. A

Freddie Welsh of Wales, lightweight
champion of the world, was held
draw by Charlie White in a fiercely
fought ten round contest at Milwaukee
Monday night. Welsh, who had a re-
feree's decision could not be given, but
it was the opinion of the newspaper
experts that White evened up honors
by his last fight with Welsh against Welsh's cleverness.

White opened a wound over the
corner and gave him a good lacing.
The fifth round took on Welsh, who
led, whaling White all around the
ring and taking little punishment in
return. The Chicago boy showed better in the sixth, but Welsh jarred
White with lefts and took the round
by a shade.

White came back strong in the seventh and eighth, but Welsh, who
shook up Welsh with a right hander.
White missed with two uppercuts and
took two rights in the ribs, but was
not discouraged, and hooked Welsh
in the head. The round was about even.

Welsh deserved the eighth by a
shade though both boys missed many
times. Welsh landed three lefts to the head as the round ended. Welsh
fought Welsh in the ninth. They
traded punches at the bell and after a
hard rally in the center of the ring
the Chicago boy made the champion
back away. White drove Welsh into a corner and laced him with stinging
rights and lefts to the body. White
landed two rights on Welsh's jaw as
the round ended.

White rushed the fight in the tenth,
again driving Welsh into a corner,
where he landed five times without a
return. White opened up a cut over Welsh's eye and peppered him with
rights and lefts to the head. Welsh
swung wildly with blood trickling into
his eye.

He went into a clinch and as they
broke White put two lefts to Welsh's
head and a right to the jaw. The last two rounds were White's all the way.
White left the ring without a mark,
while Welsh was bleeding profusely.

Penn. Trainer Resigns
Philadelphia, Nov. 10.—"Pat" Dwyer,
trainer of the University of Pennsy-
vania football team, who has been suffering from malaria since last season,
of the team from Michigan, today tendered his resignation.

"By" Dickson, an assistant coach of
the squad, it is announced, will act in Dwyer's place until a new trainer can
be secured.

Coach Overbush is trainhardt.
N. F. A. Tuning Up
Coach Overbush is tuning up the N. F. A. squad for the Bulkeley game at New London Saturday. The squad are
daily practicing forward passes and
have a few new trick plays which
they will palm off on Saturday. The
team was defeated by the West End
team Tuesday by the score of 18 to 6.

CASSORA
For Infants and Children
In Use For Over 30 Years
Always bears
the Signature of Cassora

Follow the crowd to the only place
in New London where genuine chop
is made by an Oriental chef.

PRINCECE GAME

Yale's Objective Game is Its Contest With Harvard—Blue
Will Probably Reserve Men and Plays for Crimson Battle—All-America Tackles Will Oppose Each Other.

Don't judge too much the comparative abilities of Yale and Harvard by
their showing against Princeton. Princeton has been a three-team
contest, when the desire to win in
every game has been equal in each
team, and certainly such is not the
case with the Harvard-Yale-Princeton
combination.

Only one of Princeton's games with Harvard and Yale is considered the Tigers' objective. Only one of Yale's
two games can be considered its objective, and only one of Harvard's
games can be considered the goal for
which it most earnestly strives.

Yale's objective game is its contest
with Harvard, and the Blue team, if it
were assured of a win over the Crim-
son, would give no thought to Princeton. Princeton's objective game is
that with Yale and the loss of Satur-
day's game would quickly be forgotten.
Princeton will win this week. Har-
vard's one objective is Yale also, and
had Coach Houghton's men lost to Princeton last Saturday night, the Harvard team would rest almost as con-
tented should the Crimson win from the Blue.

As the result of this known and recognized feeling in the three institutions
Yale gets it both ways, facing Princeton
in what is Princeton's objective game
and the next facing Harvard in what is
Harvard's objective game. It gets it again in both
ways, as the two games are the
final one for its opponents, and
both of the latter will take chances
that Yale cannot afford to do.

At Princeton Yale will find the Tiger
back playing far better and more daring
football than the team which he has
faced at Cambridge, while its opponent, thinking
chiefly of its contest for the succeeding
week will be doing its best to conserve
its men and its plays. Consequently
if Yale wins by but a small score, or
even loses by a few points, such results
as these will not indicate that Yale is a poorer team.

Where Desires Lay
The foregoing is not intended to in-
dicate that Yale does not desire to
win the Princeton game, or that it will
sacrifice the game that it may retain
an advantage. It means simply that Yale has a keener desire to win from Harvard than it has for a win over
Princeton, and that this desire can
not help being manifested to a degree in football play this week.

The Princeton Yale game will find
the New Haven institution with its
best team on the field. Aleck Wilson, Harvard's star, will be a factor in
the star wearers of the Blue, who
have been given a very easy time of it
this season will be in the lineup. A

Freddie Welsh of Wales, lightweight
champion of the world, was held
draw by Charlie White in a fiercely
fought ten round contest at Milwaukee
Monday night. Welsh, who had a re-
feree's decision could not be given, but
it was the opinion of the newspaper
experts that White evened up honors
by his last fight with Welsh against Welsh's cleverness.

White opened a wound over the
corner and gave him a good lacing.
The fifth round took on Welsh, who
led, whaling White all around the
ring and taking little punishment in
return. The Chicago boy showed better in the sixth, but Welsh jarred
White with lefts and took the round
by a shade.

White came back strong in the seventh and eighth, but Welsh, who
shook up Welsh with a right hander.
White missed with two uppercuts and
took two rights in the ribs, but was
not discouraged, and hooked Welsh
in the head. The round was about even.

Welsh deserved the eighth by a
shade though both boys missed many
times. Welsh landed three lefts to the head as the round ended. Welsh
fought Welsh in the ninth. They
traded punches at the bell and after a
hard rally in the center of the ring